Lack of response from the Tenant within 2 days of receiving the Landlord's proposal is deemed to be acceptance of the conclusion of the Lease Agreement on the above conditions. In the case of a Tenant who is a consumer, failure to respond within the above deadline shall be deemed a refusal to conclude the Rental Agreement on the above terms.

8. On the day of handing over the vehicle at the latest, the Lessee pays the deposit to the Lessor. In the event of termination of the contract due to failure to pay on time or the occurrence of any obligation under this contract, the SWW or the Price List during the term of the contract, the Landlord may settle the amounts due to the Tenant, including the deposit paid by the Tenant, within a time limit at the Landlord's discretion. The remaining part of the deposit may be offset against other receivables arising from this agreement, in particular receivables related to the loss of income by the Lessor as a result of early termination of the lease and unplanned downtime of the vehicle being the subject of the lease. For reasons justified by the content of the concluded Lease Agreement, the rights and authorizations granted by the Tenant to perform the activities indicated in the previous sentence by the Landlord and/or the person/entity and the authorized person/s are irrevocable. Termination of the contract (regardless of its mode) does not result in the loss of the rights granted by the Tenant, specified in the previous sentences.
10. In the event of delay in payment, the Tenant will be charged by the Landlord with debt collection costs incurred to enforce the obligation, regardless of the other rights provided for in this agreement. This provision does not apply to the Tenant who is a consumer.

12. A request for payment may be made in writing, in the form of correspondence sent to the Tenant's address or by electronic correspondence sent to the e-mail address indicated by the Tenant.
13. Termination of the Lease Agreement may take place in writing, in the form of correspondence sent to the Tenant's address or by electronic correspondence sent to the e-mail address indicated by the Tenant, or without written form in the situation described in point. VIII section 2. SWW.
14. The Lessee is obliged to immediately inform the Lessor about any third-party claims regarding the vehicle that is the subject of the lease. In the event of such claims, the Lessee is obliged to immediately inform these persons or authorities conducting appropriate proceedings that the Lessor is the owner of the vehicle. Failure to comply with this condition results in a contractual penalty being charged in the amount of 1/30 of the monthly rental rate of the vehicle to which the contract applies, for each day from the date the third party submits claims to the Lessee.
